

LONDON MATHEMATICAL SOCIETY: STUDENT TRAVEL BURSARY

The London Mathematical Society has generously donated funds to support research students in mathematics from Africa (excluding South Africa) to enable them to attend the Joint International Congress of the South African and American Mathematical Societies, which is taking place from 29 November - 3 December 2011 in Port Elizabeth, South Africa.

Specifications:

- The grant is to be used for actual travel costs only
- Postgraduate students in mathematics are eligible to apply
- Students who are awarded a travel bursary will be required to present a talk at the Congress
- The travel bursary is valued at approximately R5000 per student (this amount will be influenced by the number of students applying for the bursary, as well as the exchange rate)
- Awardees will receive their bursary once they have registered and paid for the Congress
- Applications are due by 31 July 2011
