You will then be prompted to enter your username and password. Please enter using the format indicated below. The password required is the same one used for all other NMMU systems. I.e. to login to the NMMU computer labs and portals. (This is not your old “live” email password)

Once authenticated, your mailbox will open.

NB: If you experience any logon issues, please try clearing your internet browser’s temporary files and cookies before contacting the ICT helpdesk.
